

Rex, Riley, & Ryan "The 3 R's"

3 Banjos = 3 Times the FUN

Saturday, November 11th, 2017

7:00 - 9:00 PM

Show ONLY: $20 | Workshop: $30

Show & Workshop: $40

Call Stokes Arts To Register & for Tickets: (336) 593-8159

Don't Miss a unique chance to join Rex, Riley, & Ryan up close and personal as they present: The Banjo Workshop at the Arts Place from 3:00 - 4:30pm

Includes demonstration and instruction on the signature styles of each artist. Bring your own banjo. (Limited to the first twelve to register)

Join Us for a very special evening at the beautiful NEW Stokes County Arts Place in Danbury, NC 502 North Main Street; Danbury, NC 27016

3 of the most noteworthy banjoists of our time put their skills on display!

Rex McGee, a Stokes County native, brought originality and creativity to the 3 finger style soon after taking up the instrument in 1982. The grandson of an epic local old-time fiddler, his solo projects have brought artistic acclaim and established his reputation as a premier master of the banjo and fiddle.

Riley Baugus, grew up in the Winston-Salem area and is a treasured local example of the finest in old time Appalachian banjo and song. His singing and playing were learned directly from Round Peak-style legends. Also a luthier, his Civil War era banjos were featured in the Academy Award-winning film "Cold Mountain."

Ryan Cavanaugh, born in New Jersey, grew up in Mount Airy. As a teenager he honed his innovative banjo technique which he put to great use during international tours with jazz sax legend Bill Evans. Unquestionably accomplished in traditional 3 finger banjo, his prowess in bringing the banjo to other genres is unmatched.